EPSON
Knowledge Base

What is the difference between PPI and DPI?
PPI is an abbreviation Pixels Per Inch. DPI is an abbreviation Dots Per Inch.

PPI is in relation to the Resolution on your Monitor, How many Pixels can be displayed per inch. The larger the amount of Pixels, the crisper the picture will be.
DPI is in relation to the quality of the Print, How many Dots will be printed per inch. The larger the amount of Dots printer per inch the Higher the quality of the print.